

Jason Illian

Co-Founder and Managing Director
Highmount Capital

Jason Illian is the General Partner and Co-Founder of Highmount Capital, a unique investment firm focused on growth stage and middle market investments in transformative, tech-enabled platforms. He is the former Managing Director and founding member of Koch Disruptive Technologies (KDT), the venture and growth arm of Koch Industries, the largest privately held company in the U.S. with more than $130B in revenue. Jason was responsible for helping KDT grow to billions in AUM across 40+ companies. His primary focus is on software-related platforms and marketplaces with strong experience in enterprise software, artificial intelligence, web3/crypto, media/sports and more.

Jason is a founder and 2x CEO of high-growth tech companies with two exits. He is an experienced originator, executive, investor and operator. He has advised multiple VC firms and tech companies, both in Board positions and as an advisor. Highmount Capital invested in Dude Perfect in early 2024.

