

Anurag Jain

CEO of Access Healthcare
Co-Founder of Perot Jain

Anurag Jain is the Managing Partner of Perot Jain, a Dallas-based venture capital firm, founded by Mr. Jain and his long-time business partner, Ross Perot Jr. Additionally, he serves as Chairman and CEO of Access Healthcare, a healthcare services platform transforming the revenue cycle management industry.

Under Mr. Jain's leadership, Perot Jain has made over 70 investments in industry-transforming companies, and Access Healthcare has scaled from 100 people in 2012 to over 25,000 employees today. Further, Mr. Jain, together with Mr. Perot, owns a stake in the Texas Super Kings, a Major League Cricket franchise.

Prior to leading Perot Jain and Access Healthcare, Mr. Jain co-founded Brigade Corporation, an international customer support company, and was an early pioneer in India's IT outsourcing industry as a founder of Vision Healthsource.

Mr. Jain views philanthropy and corporate social responsibility as core tenets in both his personal life and business. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of the US India Chamber of Commerce and as Chairman-Emeritus of the North Texas Food Bank. In March 2020, he launched a COVID-19 food relief and recovery program, Get Shift Done, which was named the #1 Most Innovative Not-For-Profit Organization in 2021 by Fast Company magazine. Along with fellow entrepreneurs, he has also mobilized medical equipment and supplies to India for the Indian Red Cross, OxygenForIndia.org and GiveIndia.org.

Mr. Jain received his MBA from the University of Michigan and a BE in Electrical and Electronics Engineering from the Birla Institute of Technology and Science (BITS) in Pilani, India.
