

Jeff Cardenas

Co-Founder and CEO
Apptronik

Jeff Cardenas is a serial entrepreneur on a mission to bring the groundbreaking advancements in humanoid robotics into the real world.

Under Jeff's leadership, Apptronik has built some of the most advanced robots in the world, spanning from exoskeletons to humanoid torsos, biped mobility platforms, and unique robotic arms. He believes that it is not man vs. machine, but man AND machine that will take humanity into the next stage of evolution.
