

Justin Lopas

COO & Co-Founder
Base Power Company

Justin leads operations and technology at Base Power. Before founding Base, he led manufacturing at Anduril, a leading defense technology company serving the US and allied nations. Prior to Anduril, he led manufacturing & operations for SpaceX's Starship vehicle, building the South Texas launch site from the ground up. As COO at Base, he brings that same hands-on approach to software, hardware, and operations, ensuring reliable power when people need it most.
