

Jun Il Kwon

Founder
Actium Group

Jun Il Kwon founded Actium Group in 2009 in Seoul, Korea, and began its US operations in 2011. Actium invests venture and growth capital in healthcare and technology companies.

Prior to Actium, he was Managing Director and Senior Advisor at Carlyle Group, where he oversaw the firm's first three private equity funds in the Asia Pacific. Prior to Carlyle, he was Executive Director at Goldman, Sachs & Co. in New York and Hong Kong.

He has served on over thirty corporate and non-profit boards, including the Dallas Museum of Art, the Hoover Institution, the National Museum of Korea, and UT Southwestern Medical Center.

He is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy, Harvard College, Johns Hopkins (MA), and Wharton (MBA). Jun Il, and his wife, Jae Sun, have three children and are members of St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church.

